

THE HOUSE OF SCHULER

● Since the days of the neighborhood confectioner in the early 1850's, The House of Schuler has had a part in supplying the people of this country with good things to eat.

● Their modern plant built in 1941 and functionally designed to produce high-grade candy bars and fine chocolates under the most sanitary conditions, is the culmination of years of experience in the manufacture of fine confections for a discriminating American public.
